DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-17 and 70, drawn to a server blade, classified in class 361, subclass 715.
 - II. Claims 18-39 and 71, drawn to a carrier for a blade server, classified in class 361, subclass 683.
 - III. Claims 40-56, drawn to a rack mountable shelf, classified in class 361, subclass 829.
 - IV. Claims 57-58, drawn to a computer system, classified in class 361, subclass 826.
 - V. Claim 59-69, drawn to a high density computer system, classified in class 361, subclass 790.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-IV and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as a server blade not using the carrier of II, the shelf of III, the computer system of IV or the high density system of V, invention II has separate utility such as a carrier not using the of server blade I, the shelf of III, the computer system of IV or the high density system of V, invention III has separate utility such as a rack mountable shelf not using the server blade of I, the carrier of II, the computer system of IV or the high density system of V, invention IV has separate utility such as a computer system not using the server blade of I, the carrier of II, the shelf of III, or the high density system of V, and invention V has separate utility such as a high density computer system not using the server blade of I, the carrier of II, the shelf of III, or the computer system of IV. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
